AustriAlpin announces the release of its new

ANSI Cobra

TM
Patent Pending
18kN / 4000 lb

Says, Michael Uhrmann, the General Manager of AustriAlpin GmbH: "This is the world's finest, safest, and most secure quick release buckle which fulfills all ANSI Z359.1 requirements. Unlike the other products on the market the ANSI Cobra has no dangerous potential for accidental opening when under load. AustriAlpin's Patented Cobra technology and design prohibits this problem which is found universally among other 4000lb+ buckles. Made of high strength 7075 aluminum, the new AustriAlpin ANSI Cobra is now the world's lightest, most compact extreme-load-bearing quick release buckle. Gone are the days of having to use a cumbersome, heavy, overly large, and aesthetically unattractive steel rivetted monster. The ANSI standards never looked so good! "
